

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The disclosure relates to novel para-phenylenediamine derivatives containing a cyclic diaza group, substituted with a cationic radical, as well as to the dye compositions comprising them, and to the method of dyeing keratin fibers using these compositions.

The present invention may make it possible to obtain a chromatic, strong, relatively unselective and fast coloration on keratin fibers.